CELEBRATION

central

Celebration Central is the perfect way to celebrate your students and their success! Whenever a student meets a goal, he/she then gets to pick a card from Celebration Central. It is up to you how your students store them and when they get to use them. My students put them in their take home folders so that their parents can see. They get to cash them in on Fridays for "Fun Friday".

Students also get a certificate and a brag tag. My students keep their brag tags inside their data binders within the goal tab. There are also celebration crowns included that you can include with individual celebrations, but I use mine for whole class celebrations so that they are the kings and queens of achieving goals.

BADGES

These badges are great for encouraging students to talk about their goals with others around the building. Hopefully when someone sees a student wearing a badge that says "Ask Me About My Goal!", people really do ask about the goal ☺ These badges fit into the name tag badges that you can buy OR you can go the cheaper route like me! I glued mine onto cardstock, laminated, and then hole punched each one at the top. I tied a piece of twine (or you could do a pretty ribbon... I just had twine at home already) as a necklace. Voila!

A badge at a cheaper cost ☺

PREVENTIEW

I AM MY GOAL!

The image features a central circular frame containing two cartoon children. One child on the left holds a string of three white balloons. The other child on the right has a large, stylized dental arch with teeth and a smiling face. A large, bold red banner with the word "PREVENTIEW" written on it spans across the middle of the circle. Below the circle, a white rectangular area contains the text "I AM MY GOAL!" in large, outlined black letters.
