All About Ducks

Ducks are waterfowl. They have webbed feet and flat bills. Ducks travel in flocks. They imprint on the first thing they see after hatching, which means they think it's their mother. Ducks eat plants, insects, fish, slugs, snails, amphibians, and reptiles. Ducks quack. Baby ducks are called ducklings.

What's Included?

This reading unit has everything you could possibly need to teach compare and contrast to your students! This unit covers RL.1.9: Compare and contrast the adventures and experiences of characters in stories.

- Lesson plans
- Pre and post tests
- Anchor chart
- Whole group activity
- Reading passages
- Centers
- No prep pages
- Write the room
- Small group cards

It's also preloaded into Google Slides!

Assessments

I created these pre- and post-tests for you to measure your students growth with compare/contrast. There are two different tests included so that you can either use the same test for both pre- and post-, or you can use different ones.

Lesson Plans

There are different lesson plans included for you to use as a guide to begin your reading unit. They include whole group work and independent work.

Reading Passages

These reading passages can be used in whole group or independent work.

Name: _____

Read the 2 stories. Then, compare and contrast the stories and fill in the Venn diagram below.

Compare & Contrast

Fluttering Butterfly We watched the monarch butterfly fly alone around our flower garden. It finally landed on a purple flower. Then, it flew to a pink flower. It was a very active butterfly.	The Butterfly And The Bee We watched the purple butterfly fly around our flower garden with the bee. They flew around together and were very active bugs. They landed on a red flower.

Compare/Contrast Center

Students place each picture on each hula hoop (or different colored paper, something to separate, etc.). Then, they place the words in the correct space.

Center

Pick 2 cards with the same-colored circle. Compare and contrast the two activities and experiences.

Center

Students read the 2 different stories (or you can record on a device for them to listen). Then, they use the words to write similarities and differences.

No Prep Pages

These pages can be used in any way that you see fit.

Small Group Cards

Use these cards in your small reading groups.
